Someone Finally Is Taking Stand Against Auto Bumper Scandal

In the absence of any public opinion poll this editor ventures an educated guess that one of the reasons Volkswagen year after year increases its share of the American automobile market is that the little car is protected fore and aft by the most magnificent bumpers in the world.

They're not exactly beautiful, but they have this great virtue: They project far enough so that even when depressed by a severe shock they protect the body trim and headlights and chassis of the vehicle.

Which is more than you can say for any American-made car—the domestic brands having idiotic wrap-around pieces which are strictly ornamental and are set barely an inch ahead of the car itself.

As late as 1940 American cars had heavy steel bumpers set far enough ahead and behind to protect the vehicle. But by 1950 car-buyers had become entranced with the graceful (and idiotic) beauty of the "wrap-around."

Immediately we began to get outrageous repair bills for broken headlights and grills and trim. I used to write a hot editorial every time I had minor damage getting out of a tight parking spot.

Now we are finally getting some action. It was sparked by the insurance companies and their threat to raise premiums on automobiles with these useless wrap-around bumpers. The federal government moved into the act, subsidizing several companies to build prototypes of a less-damagable automobile. This morning's wire reports from Farmingdale, N.Y., say that one of the chosen companies, Fairchild-Hiller Corp., is equipping its model with a hydraulic bumper set 18 inches ahead of the radiator.

If Detroit had fired its fashion designers back in the late 1940s and made its product utilitarian rather than fashionable it's just possible the Volkswagen wouldn't be the import problem that it is today.

If Detroit persists in its "wrap-around" snare and delusion the only thing left for the consumer to do is unite and demand Volkswagen bumpers as optional equipment on their next American car.

That would be a bumper that would land in Detroit with a crash heard around the world—and it's been overdue for two decades.

School Self Insurance Plan Passed

By BILL SIMMONS
Associated Press Writer

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Arkansas House approved Wednesday a uniform narcotics control bill that would impose stiffer penalties and also passed a self-insurance program for public schools.

The House rejected five amendments Rep. Jimmie Don McKissack of Star City had offered to the self-insurance proposal and then approved the bill 51-40.

Supporters of the bill said the amendments were designed to kill the bill. Foes of the measure said the state should not get into the insurance business.

The drug control bill was approved 79-12 with a "no knock" provision to permit officers in pursuit of illegal drugs to enter a residence without announcing themselves.

The self-insurance bill was kept in the House for reconsideration of the vote by which the emergency clause failed to be adopted. The drug control measure was sent to the Senate.

Almost all of the Senate's day was devoted to minor legislative proposals and small appropriations bills.

The self-insurance bill called for the state Board of Education to administer an insurance program under which school districts would make premium payments into a common fund for fire and storm damage protection.

The board could decide what rates would be paid so long as the rates did not exceed those of private insurance companies.

Among McKissack's amendments was one to provide a self-insurance program for all

Nixon Proposes Giving States $2.5 Billion to Aid Transportation

By TOM SEPPY
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon proposed today that $2.566 billion be given to the states to help solve their transportation problems. Twenty percent of the funds would go toward the strengthening of mass transit systems in the nation's cities.

In a message to Congress on his special revenue sharing plan, Nixon proposed that $2.041 billion during the first year be spent for the planning, construction, acquisition, improvement, operation and maintenance of what he called the broad spectrum of transportation systems and services, including highway, aviation and mass transit.

He said the remaining $525 million during the first full year would be used to provide what he described as fast relief for many of the nation's mass transit systems "which now suffer from inadequate equipment, allowing them to undertake the essential work of modernization without further delay."

All the funds that would be included in the new program would come from 23 existing federal grant-in-aid programs which are now grouped under five major headings: urban

Call for Quick SS Tax Hike Puzzles Some

By EDMOND LEBRETON
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon's call for an immediate payroll-tax hike to finance higher Social Security benefits has been received on Capitol Hill with puzzlement and hints of resistance.

Nixon approved Wednesday a hastily enacted 10-per-cent increase in Social Security benefits for the 26 million beneficiaries. But he urged Congress to immediately increase the wage base on which the Social Security payroll tax is levied from $7,800 to $9,000.

The bill he signed contains such an increase, but not stag until next Jan. 1. The raise in benefits is retroactive, however, to last Jan. 1.

The increase, whenever effective, means a maximum annual tax raise of $62.40 each on an employee and his employer.

Rep. Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee, declined comment on chances of hastening the effective date of the tax hike.

But he said a tax increase this year would more than cancel stimulation the Social Security benefit boost was calculated to provide for a still sluggish economy.

The benefit raise is expected to pump an extra $3.6 billion to recipients, most of whom would be expected to spend the new money quickly.

Urban Renewal Relocation Workshop

Mike Kelly and Guy Grigg of the Housing Authority will attend a Community Organization and Relocation Workshop in Fort Worth at the Sheraton Texas Hotel, on March 22, 23, and 24.

The Workshop is conducted by the National Association of Housing and Redevelopment Association, Southwest Regional Council.

The Workshop will cover many subjects including the new Uniform Relocation Act signed into law on January 2, 1971 and affects all relocation caused by public action. The workshop will explain the Act and its application and the information gathered will help in the upcoming Urban Renewal work that Mr. Grigg and Mr. Kelly will be doing.

Fate of SST to Be Close in House

WASHINGTON (AP) — The bill continuing federal support for a supersonic-transport plane reached the House today for a crucial vote so close SST backers said they could lose.

"It's going to be tough," said Speaker Carl Albert of Oklahoma, conceding some of the 20 votes by which the House approved continued SST funding last December have been lost. The vote then was 205 to 185.

Today's vote was on a motion by Rep. Sidney R. Yates, D-Ill., to cut $134 million and halt federal SST money March 30 when present spending authority expires.

The Senate may act on the spending cut next week.

SST backers stressed during debate Wednesday that the two prototypes being developed will prove whether the plane can be a commercial success or a threat to the environment. Ending the federal subsidy now, they said, would cost 13,000 jobs and a loss of the $1-billion government investment, including termination costs.

Three scientists told a news conference the possibility SSTs might cause skin cancer should be investigated before the planes are flown.

They and other experts have suggested a fleet of the high-flying planes might reduce the earth's radiation-shielding ozone belt, causing an increase in ultraviolet rays which have been connected to skin cancer.

White House press secretary Ronald L. Ziegler called the cancer statements an "inexcusable and a shocking attempt to create fear about something that is simply not the fact."

He repeated an administration pledge that the SST will not go into production if studies show it harms health or the environment.

Yates called the SST a "super soak-the-taxpayer" program, contending it will be a luxury plane most taxpayers won't fly.

Bill Setting Bond Election Date Vetoed

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — A bill proposing a special statewide election May 18 on whether to issue a $300 million highway construction bond issue was vetoed late Wednesday by Gov. Dale Bumpers.

The governor's action came after a news conference at which he indicated he had not settled doubts in his mind about the wisdom of the bond issue approach to highway construction financing.

Earlier in the day, the Senate had voted to recall the bill from the House of Representatives, but late in the House session Wednesday Speaker Ray S. Smith Jr. of Hot Springs announced that he would advise the Senate that the bill had already been sent to the governor's office.

At the news conference, Bumpers was advised by newsmen of the return of the bill and he said he did not expect to see it again.

Later, one of the governor's legislative aides, Brad Jesson, discovered the governor's office still had possession of the bill. By then, each chamber of the legislature was out of session for the day.

Proposal for Reforms in Auto Insurance System to Committee

By DONALD M. ROTHBERG
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Nixon administration sends today its proposal for state-by-state reform of the nation's troubled auto insurance system to a Senate committee whose Democratic members include two sponsors of a tough federal approach.

"We think the present system needs change badly and needs it now," said Secretary of Transportation John A. Volpe, in a statement prepared for the Senate Commerce Committee and made available by congressional sources. Volpe said the states should get the first chance to change the system.

Sen. Warren G. Magnuson, D-Wash., committee chairman, and Sen. Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., a ranking member, are cosponsors of a bill to establish a mandatory, nationwide auto insurance system.

The administration recommendations and the Magnuson-Hart bill focus on the so-called no-fault liability under which injured persons are compensated regardless of who

Week of War Claims 45 Americans

SAIGON (AP) — Forty-five Americans were killed in action last week in Indochina, one more than in the week before, the U.S. Command reported today. The South Vietnamese government's casualties also increased, while the number of enemy dead claimed by allied forces was lower than the previous week.

The U.S. Command's weekly casualty summary also reported 156 Americans wounded last week, a big drop from the 434 wounded the week before.

South Vietnamese headquarters said 773 government troops died in action last week, compared with 650 the previous week. There were 1,981 South Vietnamese wounded, an increase from 1,671 a week earlier.

The allied commands claimed 4,003 enemy killed last week, compared with a revised total of 4,824 for the previous week.

U.S. headquarters said there were 22 Americans last week due to nonhostile causes.

Heavy Damage in Accident

Yesterday at 4th and Laurel Streets autos driven by Durward Jones of Little Rock and Columbus James Coleman of Hope collided with very heavy damage resulting. Assistant Police Chief James Rowe investigated and charged Jones with failure to yield the right-of-way.

Downtown of South Walnut a vehicle driven by Walter H. Rateliff of Patmos was pulling away from the curb and collided with another driven by Annie Belle Johnson. There was very minor damage and no injuries. City Officer Shirley investigated.

The 1st Regiment, which had withdrawn to Brown after abandoning Fire Base Lolo five miles to the west on Tuesday, was the second major South Vietnamese unit reported to have pulled out of Laos since the campaign began Feb. 8. The 1st Ranger Group's two battalions were withdrawn after suffering heavy losses in fighting north of Highway 9 last month.

Col. Nguyen Xuan Loc, the 1st Division's intelligence officer, said Brown was abandoned because it was under intense mortar and artillery fire around the clock.

Brown was the third base south of Highway 9 to be abandoned since last Friday, and the evacuation left Fire Base Delta 1 the westernmost base still occupied by Saigon's troops.

Losses Soar in Retreat From Laos

SAIGON (AP) — Heavy attacks drove South Vietnamese troops in Laos back toward their own border today with soaring losses. At least 110 Saigon troops were reported killed Thursday and 205 wounded.

The South Vietnamese abandoned another base in Laos, Landing Zone Brown, the sixth given up since the campaign began Feb. 8. Saigon also pulled two battalions and a regimental command post back to South Vietnam. North Vietnamese gunners continued to pound the troops still in Laos with mortars and artillery.

"We are still in Laos but concentrated near the Vietnamese border now," said Lt. Col. Do Viet, a military spokesman in Saigon. "We are moving out to let the U.S. bombers attack North Vietnamese troops massing in the area."

Another spokesman, Lt. Col. Tran Van An, insisted that all was going according to Saigon's plans.

"We now have a new plan of operation," he said. "We are operating in another area and another direction. That's what we meant when we said tactical movements are being conducted."

"The South Vietnamese troops have accomplished almost all of their objectives in the operation," he added.

Hard fighting raged between Fire Base Lolo, abandoned Tuesday, and Landing Zone Brown. An said a battalion had remained in the vicinity of Lolo to cover the withdrawing troops, and field reports said it was overrun early today.

About 700 soldiers from the 1st Infantry Division's battered 1st regiment were flown out of Landing Zone Brown, 14 miles west of the border. The massive airlift by 60 U.S. helicopters took most of the morning.

Associated Press correspondent Holger Jensen reported from Ham Nghi that some of the weary soldiers were hanging on the skids of the choppers as they landed.

Building Car to Hold Up in 50mph Crash

FARMINGDALE, N.Y. (AP) — Run the car into a stone wall at 50 miles an hour and walk away? Yes, that's the Fairchild-Hiller Corporation's vision as it develops an experimental supersafe car.

"You may have a few bruises and perhaps a broken nose, but you'll survive," says George Hildebrand, the engineer in charge of the project for Fairchild-Hiller.

The United States Department of Transportation-sponsored project envisions a car in which passengers can survive a roll at 70 mph, and sustain a 30 mph crash broadside with little damage.

The Transportation Department's grant to Fairchild is $4.5 million. Hildebrand says the two cars designed under the grant will be ready by next January.

The government specifications call for a car body capable of sustaining a 10 mph collision undamaged and a gasoline tank that won't spill in a crash.

The car also has to be attractive in design and price and have improved braking, steering and handling.

For protection in front-end crashes, Hildebrand is developing a hydraulic bumper which will be located about 18 inches in front of the engine and radiator. It extends another 12 inches automatically when the car reaches a speed of about 35 mph, and can absorb a 50 mph impact.

To protect passengers during broadside collisions doors will have double locks and be fitted with energy-absorbing materials. High sills will prevent doors from buckling inward.

While the car would sustain damage in a crash of 40 mph, the passengers would be safely cradled in steel.

Low Front Moving Into Arkansas

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS — As a reminder that spring is not yet firmly entrenched in the state, a low front will move through Arkansas today and tonight, triggering showers and thundershowers and dropping temperatures.

After the passage of the front, skies will again be clear, though temperatures will be cooler.

The National Weather Service says that the highs will be in the 50s and 60s through Monday with the lows in the 30s and 40s.

The highs Wednesday ranged from 61 at Jonesboro to 73 at Texarkana.

The committee has found evidence that two lawyers have solicited such lawsuits.

Bumpers Says WR Was Right

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Gov. Dale Bumpers told the Arkansas state Chamber of Commerce Community Awards luncheon Wednesday that state government functions because of "dedicated people" who are paid less than they could receive if employed in private business.

The governor said that former Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller was right when predicting that Bumpers' No. 1 problem would be attracting good men to state government.

The low pay is one of the shortcomings of some state jobs, Bumpers said, adding that the burdens of the governorship would present problems to anyone who held it.

Backhoe, the price on the Tractor-Loader would be reduced to $22,000.00, which would be the low bid.

All prices were made F.O.B. Hope, including Arkansas Sales Tax, and after an allowance for the old backhoe used at the dump ground and a tractor being used by the street department. The bids will be reviewed and a recommendation will be made to the City Board of Directors at their meeting on Tuesday, March 23.

The equipment being sought is heavy enough to carry on the extensive digging and covering operation that is now required at the dump ground, since the Arkansas Pollution Control Commission has ordered the City to stop burning any trash or rubbish. This will increase the trenching and covering operation several times over what the City has been doing. Previous to the new order, a trench was prepared and all paper and combustibles were burned in the trench and the ashes and residue covered.

Rogers' Plan Rejected by Mrs. Meir

JERUSALEM (AP) — Premier Golda Meir has rejected Secretary of State William P. Rogers' proposal for international guarantees instead of the territorial expansion Israel demands to secure her borders. "We cannot trust Rogers' offer, even if it is proposed in good faith," Mrs. Meir told a meeting of her Labor party's Central Committee Wednesday night.

Defense Minister Moshe Dayan said he did not doubt the U.S. government "sincerely wants to assure Israel's security." But he said he could not accept Rogers' belief that "geography is unimportant."

Rogers, in a Washington news conference Tuesday, said the impasse in negotiations under U.N. mediator Gunnar V. Jarring results from Egypt's insistence on Israeli withdrawal from all territory captured in 1967 and Israel's determination to hold positions it considers vital to its security.

Rogers suggested that Israel's borders be guaranteed by a U.N. force stationed at strategic points.

"Why should we be the only country in the world that is a protectorate in a framework peopled by Russians, Americans, Yugoslavs and Indians?" Mrs. Meir asked.

She also said there must be "a deterrent border so that no Sadat can in five or 10 years try again." Anwar Sadat is president of Egypt.

Dayan warned Egypt against renewing the war along the Suez Canal, declaring that Israel's military strength is greater than at any time in the past four years. He attributed this to U.S. arms deliveries since the cease-fire began in August 1970.

Egypt agreed to extensions of the cease-fire until the last expiration date, March 7, when Sadat refused to renew it. Both sides along the canal have put their forces on alert, but there have been no shooting incidents so far.

Information Minister Israel Galili told the Labor party meeting that Israel must be prepared for a "very bitter argument" with the United States.

The U.S. position reportedly worried King Hussein of Jordan because of what he considers the overriding concern of the Big Four nations to get an agreement between Egypt and Israel. Rogers did not mention Jordan.

Dayan said he believed Israel could solve the problem of the Palestine refugees not by repatriating or resettling them, but by improving their health, education and housing and "raising them out of the status of refugees."

Israeli Foreign Minister Abba Eban, who meets Friday with Rogers in Washington, had sessions today in New York with U.N. Secretary-General U. Thant and Jarring. Both have asked Israel to withdraw from the Arab territories it occupied in the 1967 war.

Ashdown Paper Mill Quits Arkla Case

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Nekoosa-Edwards Paper Co. at Ashdown is withdrawing from participation in the hearing before the state Public Service Commission on long-term industrial contracts that Arkansas Louisiana Gas Co. is seeking to have set aside.

The withdrawal notice was contained in a letter from Russell K. Elston, resident manager of the Ashdown mill, to B. E. Harrell, a vice president at Arkla.

The PSC has been holding hearings to determine if the industrial contracts should be voided. Arkla contends they must so rates can be raised to finance construction of a pipeline to new gas supplies in Texas and Oklahoma.

"We conclude that it is essential for the future growth of (Arkansas) in general, and the future growth of our mill at Ashdown in particular, that Arkla's efforts to obtain authority from the Federal Power Commission to build a pipeline into the Anadarko Basin should meet with success and that the project should be built and completed as soon as possible," Elston wrote.

Water Grant Approved

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. John Paul Hammerschmidt, R-Ark., said Wednesday the Economic Development Administration had approved a $171,800 three-year grant for water quality management planning in Benton and Washington counties and portions of Yell and Madison counties.

The grant is to the Northwest Arkansas Regional Planning Commission at Springdale.

Art Center Grant Is Defeated

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Senate defeated Wednesday a bill that would have made a grant of $60,000 from state revenue to the Arkansas Arts Center.

Sen. Max Howell of Little Rock spoke in favor of the Joint Budget Committee bill because the committee chairman, Sen. Robert Harvey of Swifton, opposed it.

Howell said the bill would finance an art program conducted under the auspices of the center but affecting areas away from Little Rock.

"Is this art typified by what is hanging in the governor's office?" asked Sen. Virgil T. Fletcher of Benton, referring to paintings the center has loaned to the governor's office.

"Senator, I would hope not," Howell replied.

Harvey said legislators had been criticized for voting several years ago for an appropriation for the Arkansas Horse Show Association and that Howell's bill "seems to be pretty much the same sort of thing — the center isn't a state agency."

Arkla Denies Return Rate Is Unfair

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Arkansas Louisiana Gas officials denied Wednesday charges made by Arkla's industrial customers that the utility's rate of return on stockholders' equity was about double what the state Public Service Commission considers fair.

Edward N. Henderson, a vice president of Arkla, told the PSC that characterizations of Arkla's rate of return on stockholders' equity as far in excess of what the PSC considered fair were "meaningless" because they did not take into account Arkla subsidiaries.

William Grove of Washington D.C., an attorney for Reynolds Metals Co., made the charge Tuesday before the PSC.

The commission is holding hearings to determine if Arkla's long-term contracts to supply gas to industrial customers should be voided.

Appointments of Bumpers Confirmed

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Senate confirmed Wednesday Gov. Dale Bumpers' nomination of Mrs. Cal Ledbetter Jr. of Little Rock to the state Juvenile Training School Board.

The Senate also confirmed the reappointment of Harvel Adams of DeWitt as state bank commissioner.

Mrs. Ledbetter is the wife of a state representative. She worked in Bumpers' campaign in 1970 and helped plan the governor's inaugural ceremonies earlier this year.

The two appointments were among 11 confirmed by the Senate. The others were:

Miss Karen D. Gulley of Little Rock, Investigators Licensing Board.

Circuit Court Judge Bobby Steel of Nashville, Investigators Licensing Board.

Dr. W. R. Harris of England, Hospital Advisory Council.

Ennis Oakes of Little Rock, the Revenue Building Commission.

Mrs. Rose Ruffin, North Little Rock, Nursing Home Advisory Council.

Mr. Long succeeds Bill G. Beaty, who has been appointed vice president of the Charleston, W. Va., division.

As Little Rock division vice president, Mr. Long will be in charge of 47 supermarkets in Arkansas and Texas, served from division headquarters and distribution center at 1302 Pike Avenue in North Little Rock.

He served as produce merchandiser and zone manager in Memphis before moving to the general office in Cincinnati as produce procurement manager. He was named director of produce merchandising in 1966 and became vice president-produce merchandising in 1969.

Wants Angela Davis Out on Bail

SAN RAFAEL, Calif. (AP) — Attorneys for black militant Angela Davis say they're going to appellate courts to seek her release on bail now that the judge in her murder case has disqualified himself.

Miss Davis' codefendant, 31-year-old black convict Ruchell Magee, surprised even his own attorneys Wednesday when he presented an affidavit at a pre-trial hearing seeking to disqualify Superior Court Judge John P. McMurray "for cause."

After almost two hours of conferences in chambers with attorneys for all parties, McMurray returned to the bench and declared: "I'm going to allow Mr. Magee's affidavit for cause. It disqualifies me to act further in this case."

Miss Davis, 27-year-old former UCLA philosophy instructor and an avowed Communist, and Magee are charged with murder, kidnap and conspiracy in the Aug. 7 shootout at the Marin County Civic Center in which a judge, two convicts and an accomplice were killed.

McMurray's decision postponed the case indefinitely and returns to the California Judicial Council the task of finding a judge.

After McMurray's announcement, Howard Moore Jr., chief counsel for Miss Davis, asked him to consider her petition for bail, but the judge said, "I will refuse to act any further in this matter."

Magee's handwritten petition seeking disqualification of McMurray gave no actual "cause" and the judge allowed it without explanation.

Robert Carrow, one of Magee's court-appointed attorneys, said his client's affidavit simply meant "he could not get a fair trial before Judge McMurray."

McMurray, 62, was brought out of retirement from sparsely populated Inyo County in southeastern California to preside at the pretrial hearings. All Marin County judges had disqualified themselves because of past friendship with Superior Court Judge Harold Haley, killed in the shootout last summer.

THE TWAIN SHOULD MEET

Dear Helen:

There's only one thing wrong with this great teacher. The tops of her nylons come just a few inches above her knees, and when she crosses her legs, bends over, or reaches up, you can see bare skin and garters.

Naturally the boys have a game. They drop stuff so she will pick it up, see who can get her to reach highest for maps, etc.

She's young (27) and cute and awfully nice. How can we convert her to panty hose without hurting her feelings? — MARTY

Dear Marty:

Sometimes it's kindest to be frank. A "great" teacher might even thank you for the tip. — H.

Dear Helen:

I'm 14 and need help bad. You see, my mom told me tonight that she would be leaving soon. She said she would rather be tormented in hell the rest of her life than be tormented the way she is here at home.

I never knew she felt this way, at least this strong. I've packed before, but I've always stayed. We have family problems. I've cried plenty of nights because of fights.

Helen, when Mom leaves there will be only me and Dad. I know how to keep house but I still need a mother. And he needs a wife. I'm afraid I drove Mom into this because they fight over me a lot too, and I've been so mean and un-understanding. Do you suppose if I ran away, they'd stay together? Or how can I get them to see that behind these tear-stained eyes, I love them both and want them here? — S.C.

Dear S.:

Crying in the night — alone — doesn't help nearly so much as being brave — and understanding — enough to talk it out with your folks.

Ask your mother to read this column. Then ask her what you can do. She probably feels as estranged and guilty as you, and she needs to know she is appreciated. That's the first step. Let's hope your father takes it from there. — H.

Dear Helen:

Here's my version of What Is Breaking-Up?

After all your hours of crying

Larger Towns Eligible for FHA Loans

Residents of rural towns in the population range from 5,500 to 10,000 are now eligible to apply for rural housing loans from the Farmers Home Administration, Administrator James V. Smith of the Department of Agriculture's rural credit agency announced today.

Mr. Smith said the law has been changed to enable his agency to make loans in towns larger than the previous population limit of 5,500.

"Thousands of communities are in the category which we begin serving today," Mr. Smith said, "and I know that our program in rural housing will expand substantially as a result of this broadened authority, allowing us to aid many more families to enjoy new homes."

The Administrator reported that during the first half of fiscal 1971 more than 51,000 rural housing loans were made for some $624 million.

"Our total budget nationally for rural housing purposes this year is more than $1.4 billion," Mr. Smith said. "Next year, it will go above $1.6 billion—triple the figure for fiscal 1969. The need is pressing for improved rural housing, in nearly all states, and we are moving rapidly to meet that need."

Eligible families are those which are unable to obtain housing credit from other sources, the Administrator added.

"The Farmers Home Administration has 1,740 offices serving the nation's 3,000 rural counties," Mr. Smith said, "so that we are readily available to work directly with rural families."

City Selling Historic Maps

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — San Francisco's supervisors are being asked to go into business selling copies of historic maps, photographs and old documents.

The supervisors Governmental Services Committee approved the proposal after perusing a pilot batch of ancient postcards.

They showed City Hall before it was destroyed by the quake of 1906; the second Cliff House at Ocean Beach, before it was destroyed a year later; the first Ferry Building, circa 1896 and a pre-quake horse car on old Market Street.

Beatles Are Fighting for Supremacy

By DON McNICOLI
Associated Press Writer
LONDON (AP) — Three of the squabbling Beatles are fighting for supremacy in the British pop records charts.

George Harrison, youngest and quietest of the Beatles, topped the charts for seven weeks with his pop hymn, "My Sweet Lord." World sales now exceed three million.

This week Harrison was ousted from top spot by fellow Beatle Paul McCartney, whose "Another Day" was written with his American wife Linda Eastman, Paul says. Meanwhile, John Lennon and the Plastic Ono Band have clocked into the charts in 195th place with "Power to the People."

Harrison was always in the shadow of the gifted Lennon and McCartney, the song-writing team that set a new style. Now he has become an international star in his own right.

He still tops the lucrative long-play records charts with his triple-record album, "All Things Must Pass." It has sold more than two million copies throughout the world.

Under his contract the money is divided five ways, so that Harrison gets only a fifth, but meanwhile of course he gets a similar rakeoff from the other Beatles' individual earnings.

The Beatles' musical links were broken a long time ago in arguments involving and jealousy and pride. Their financial links still hold, but that could change. McCartney, trying to dissolve their financial partnership, won the first round of the battle in court a few days ago, but a final ruling will take some time.

When the Beatles' musical breakup came, all four went their separate ways. Lennon and his Japanese wife Yoko Ono made recordings. So did McCartney. Ringo Starr developed his interest in making films, and also made a country and Western Album in Nashville, Tenn.

Church Has a Drive-In READING, Pa. (AP) — St. Luke's Lutheran church has its own drive-in windows. It has been in operation for two weeks.

Dr. Samuel Jaxheimer, pastor said the window was installed to solve a security problem and as a convenience to the church secretary and the congregation.

He said the church's noon-to-five open door policy provided a too easy access to intruders and placed the secretary in possible jeopardy.

It was donated by a bank, from a remodeled branch office.

Mrs. George Taylor, secretary of the church, says the window is "for your deposit. We take it in but we don't hand it out."

Would Pipe Oil Under Polar Cap

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — General Dynamics says it has designed a nuclear-powered submarine to carry oil under the polar ice cap from Alaska and Canada's Arctic islands to world markets.

The 255,000-ton undersea vessel would carry 1.8 million barrels of oil per trip. Its primary route would be under the ice of the Northwest Passage to Greenland or Newfoundland, where the oil would be transferred to surface tankers for shipment to East Coast ports in Canada and the United States.

Samuel B. Winram, director of Arctic transportation for General Dynamics, said Tuesday the big submersible oil carrier could be operating within five years.

Plans call for building the sub-tanker at General Dynamics' shipbuilding divisions at Groton, Conn., and Quincy, Mass. Winram said no starting date had been set pending further talks with oil industry leaders and the U.S. government.

The $2.7-billion sub could operate the year around, which would minimize oil production cutbacks and the need for storage facilities, Winram told a news conference.

The great advantage of the underwater tanker, he said, is its ability to operate at a depth of 400 feet where it would be protected from ice, storms and other hazards that could cause oil spills. The submarine would travel at 17 knots.

Competition Fierce in Cat World

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP) — It's no longer enough to be just an ordinary house cat with nine lives.

In this day of fierce competition and a savage quest for versatility any self-respecting cat has got to come up with a gimmick.

"Cat," six years old and property of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Childers, of Hot Springs, decided upon the study of music.

The childers found "Cat" on the highway. They didn't particularly want a cat, since they already had nine Pekinese, but they were afraid he would get run over. So "Cat" became part of the household.

Faced with such formidable competition for attention, "Cat" took up the piano.

Mrs. Childers said that "Cat" scrambled up on the piano keys when he was five or six months old and "he's been playing ever since."

His best virtuoso performances are early in the morning, according to Mrs. Childers. Givings vent to such artistic expression plus his morning meal exhausts him and he sleeps a good portion of the day.

"Cat" is usually quite willing to perform, — but he takes his own sweet time about it and any attempts to hurry him are met with massive disdain. Music of any kind seems to appeal to him, said Mrs. Childers, who reported that he often "seemed to keep time with his tail when the phonograph was playing."

Mrs. Childers added that "Cat" used to reach up and turn the pages of a hymnal, but he was tearing the pages so I had to take it away."

Would Ban Closed TV for Fights

WASHINGTON (AP) — Pointing to what he called exorbitant profits from the Ali-Frazier title fight, Rep. Les Aspin proposed today that Congress ban major sports events from closed circuit television.

"Simply put, this bill would keep professional sports in America open to all sports fans, not just a select few," the Wisconsin Democrat said in prepared remarks.

Aspin said he plans to introduce a bill next week to prevent future showing of championship fights, superbowl, world series games and other major sports events on closed circuit TV.

Such legislation, Aspin said, would force promoters to turn to network television for the broadcast of all major sports programs.

"The exorbitant profits made by a handful of professional promoters from the Ali-Frazier fight were totally unjustified and led to numerous lawsuits, the illegal counterfeiting and scalping of tickets at incredible prices and seriously injured the public's image of professional boxing and of professional sports in general," Aspin said.

Heavyweight champion Joe Frazier defeated Muhammad Ali in a grueling 15-round fight shown only on closed circuit television March 8.

Aspin asserted that $20 million or more of expected profits from that fight will represent "an enormous temptation for other sports to follow suit and produce their events on closed circuit TV."

Under terms of his bill, Aspin said promoters of major sports events would be required to accept the highest bid from a television network for the broadcast of a sports event.

He said the only exception to the closed circuit TV ban would be if the Broadcast Bureau of the Federal Communications Commission determined that the anticipated profits from a live network broadcast—along with other expected receipts such as the gate—would not be sufficient to justify holding the event.

Manager Eddie Kasko has located some holes in his Red Sox and he's going to start darning them up today.

Boston's fifth straight exhibition baseball loss—this one an 8-2 one-sided affair to Houston—drained the mild-mannered Kasko of his last bit of patience Wednesday.

"I didn't see a single encouraging note all day," he said disgustedly afterwards. "They look like a bunch of dead beats. I think it's time to shake them up a little."

Kasko planned a squad meeting for the Sox today.

So far, what the Sox have been doing mostly has been exasperating their boss. Wednesday, it was pitcher Gary Peters' turn. He was rapped for eight hits and runs in five innings by the Astros, who ran their spring record to 8-4.

Denis Menke cracked three hits and Cesar Cedeno drove in three runs for Houston while Wade Blasingame allowed just one run and three hits in five innings.

While Kasko's problems mounted, Los Angeles and Cincinnati continue to get encouraging performances from two unheralded rookies.

Bob Darwin's eighth inning double—the fourth hit in the inning by LA—drove in the Dodgers' winning run in a 5-4 decision over Washington. Darwin, a former pitcher who has switched to the outfield this season, increased his spring batting average to .538 with the game-winning hit.

Pat Osburn, who had never pitched an inning of professional baseball before this spring, blanked Detroit for five innings as Cincinnati downed the Tigers 5-1. Osburn now has allowed just one earned run in 14 innings.

Catcher Bill Plummer drove in three runs with a double and a single for the Reds.

Minnesota absorbed a 10-1 defeat against Baltimore but got some good news off the field when outfielder Tony Oliva okayed a two-year contract. Oliva will receive between $90,000 and $95,000 this season and apparently will move into the six-figure bracket next year.

Oliva's signing left Minnesota pitcher Bill Zepp as the last major league holdout. Zepp has said he would not play this season unless the Twins trade him to Detroit, his home town.

Bobby Grich drove in five runs for the Orioles with a pair of doubles and an infield out while Andy Etchebarren and Merv Rettenmund each contributed a two-run single to the 10-hit attack against the Twins.

Montreal won its fourth straight exhibition game and third in a row against Atlanta, battering the Braves 17-5. Mack Jones' three-run homer highlighted a seven-run second inning and Ron Fairly touched off a five-run seventh with another homer for the Expos.

Tony LaRussa broke a 2-2 tie with a three-run homer and drove in another run with a triple, leading Oakland to an 8-3 victory over Cleveland. Ray Fosse had three hits for the Indians.

Dave Campbell's ninth inning single drove in the deciding run in San Diego's 8-7 victory over the Chicago Cubs. The Padres had tied the game with four runs in the seventh inning, the rally being capped by Ivan Murrell's two-run single.

Jose Cruz doubled home the winning run for St. Louis in the ninth as the Cardinals edged Philadelphia 4-3. Jose Cardenal had a three-run homer for St. Louis and Byron Browne connected for the Phillies.

Milwaukee topped San Francisco 10-9 in a free-swinging game that produced 32 hits, 16 for each team. Darrell Porter had a two-run homer for the Brewers, who hit 12 of their first seven innings. Dick Dietz contributed three singles to the Giants' attack.

Gary Gentry pitched five innings of one-hit ball and Dean Jones, Tim Lincecum, Bob Aspinwall and Ken Boswell chipped in with two hits apiece, leading the New York Mets to a 6-1 decision over the Houston Astros.

Regional Semifinals in NCAA Play

By TOM EMORY
Associated Press Sports Writer

Notre Dame has a distinction no other team can boast of during the 1970-71 basketball season—it defeated No. 1 UCLA.

The 12th-ranked Irish coached by Johnny Dee hung an 89-82 loss on the Bruins. It was a loss that pulled Coach John Wooden's charges away from their top position just briefly in The Associated Press poll. They completed the remaining 11 games with victories just as they had played their first 14 contests.

It was undoubtedly Notre Dame's high-point in the season as they finished 20-7. Entering the Midwest Regional of the NCAA Tournament, the Irish have their work before them as they first play 20-7 Drake tonight in Wichita, Kan. The Missouri Valley Conference co-champion made the tourney by winning a playoff series with Louisville and Wichita State.

If the Irish, led by All-American Austin Carr, make it past Drake, the next opponent is likely to be Big Eight champion Kansas; 25-1, riding a 19-game win streak, and led by its own All-American, Dave Robisch.

The Jayhawks' first opponent in the semifinal is independent Houston, which finished the season 21-6. One of the losses was to Kansas, 89-73.

In the other regional semifinals tonight, UCLA plays Brigham Young, 19-9; and Long Beach State, 23-4, faces Pacific, 21-5, in the West Regional in Salt Lake City.

No. 2-ranked Marquette 27-0, goes for its 40th straight victory in the Midwest Regional against Ohio State, 19-5, in Athens, Ga. In the second contest Western Kentucky, 21-5, faces Kentucky, 22-4.

And in the Raleigh, N.C. East Regional, Pennsylvania, 27-0, plays South Carolina, 23-4; and Fordham, 25-2, meets Villanova, 24-6.

The survivors of the games meet Saturday for regional championships, with the winners moving on to the Houston Astrodome for the national semifinals and final March 25 and 27.

In the NCAA college division tourney Wednesday in Evansville, Ind., Dwight Lamar of sixth-ranked Southwestern Louisiana scored 44 points in leading his team to a 110-99 victory over Assumption of Worcester, Mass., the No. 5-ranked team. Lamar, a sophomore, was the nation's top college scorer. Mike Boylan led Assumption with 32 points.

Two other sophoms, Randy Coulling and Rick Nau, each scored four points in overtime to give Old Dominion of Norfolk, Va., an 81-80 decision over Puget Sound of Tacoma, Wash. Skip Noble hit a layup at the buzzer to give the Monarchs a regulation 73-73 tie. Then, Coulling and Nau went to work. Steve Cox was Old Dominion's leading scorer with 23 points while Chuck Lowery led Puget Sound with 35.

Kentucky Wesleyan snapped Cheyney, (Pa.) State's 13-game victory string 89-83. John Duncan hit 23 points for the Panthers, winners in the tournament three times. Chuck Kirkland and Letroy Eldridge each scored 24 points for the losers.

Laver Needs Two Wins for Full Sweep

NEW YORK (AP) — Rod Laver needs just two victories to complete his sweep of the Tennis Champions classic. They would bring to 13 his triumphs and $160,000 his total winnings.

Laver's opponent in the semifinal round tonight at Madison Square Garden is Dennis Ralston, of Bakersfield, Calif., who has beaten The Rocket in two of four matches in the past year.

Roy Emerson of Australia plays Tom Okker of The Netherlands in the other semifinal with $15,000 going to the winners and $5,000 to the losers.

The final Friday night will net the winner a $35,000 prize.

Everything Is Fine, Frazier Vows

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The rumors were that Joe Frazier had died or was seriously ill, but the heavyweight champion wanted everyone to know that he was true.

"Man, everything's all right. Everything's cool," Frazier said Wednesday from his Philadelphia hospital room in a telephone conversation to comedian Joey Bishop. The conversation was being taped for NBC's Tonight show on television.

Bishop, hosting the show, the absence of ailing John Carson, hoped to dispel the rumors and arranged for a phone call to Frazier.

Bishop asked Frazier about stories saying the fighter was very ill, that he would not fight again, and that he was due to a long stay in St. Luke's Hospital.

"They got me scared to walk the street," said Frazier. "I got a friendly cold."

Bishop asked Frazier if he was going to continue fighting and would have a rematch with Ali.

"If he wants to fight me again, I'll give him a shot," Frazier replied.

At a press briefing Wednesday, Dr. James Giuffre said Frazier's health and the possible need to quit boxing.

"Physically I see no reason for his retirement."

Frazier was admitted when he came to visit the hospital drug abuse clinic and show films of his past fights. Dr. Giuffre said Frazier spoke of feeling tired and had a blood pressure of 190.

Seals Beat Penguins for First Time

OAKLAND (AP) — With five other National Hockey League games on tap tonight, the California Golden Seals will be resting up after beating the Pittsburgh Penguins Wednesday night for the first time this year, 5-2, and thereby getting out of a nine-game losing rut.

Toronto's Maple Leafs play at Montreal tonight, New York at the Philadelphia Flyers, the Detroit Red Wings at the league-leading Boston Bruins, and the Chicago Black Hawks at Los Angeles.

Chicago comes here Friday to take on the fired-up Seals, who spiked the Penguins' play-off possibilities with the victory here Wednesday night.

Pittsburgh drew first blood in the first period with a goal by Ron Schock. But in the second period California scored two goals 15 seconds apart, one by Tony Featherstone and another by Gary Creteau.

Gerry Ehman made it 3-1 early in the final period, and Gary Jarrett sank another shot at 12:20.

Ehman got his second goal of the night with less than two minutes to play, and Brian Hextall scored Pittsburgh's final tally on a delayed penalty shot just before the game ended.

Barry Does His Thing in Garden

Associated Press Sports Writer NEW YORK (AP) — Rick Barry has been there before, knows what it takes to sell a relatively new league like the American Basketball Association.

"You can have a good game in the Garden and it's better than having a great game in a place like North Carolina," he said.

Well, the ABA had its cake and ate it, too, Wednesday night in its second appearance this season in Madison Square Garden, bastion of the rival New York Knicks and the National Basketball Association.

They came away with the hope for a little more exciting games, a little more recognition and a few more fans.

Barry, the glamour boy of the league, certainly did his part, scoring 45 points and then feeding off to Bill Melchioni for a 20-foot jump shot with three seconds left that gave the New York Nets a 122-120 victory over the Kentucky Colonels.

The opener of the doubleheader was almost as good—although lacing home team flavor—as the Floridians came from behind to upset the Utah Stars 120-116 behind little Mack Calvin's 41 points.

In other ABA games Indiana beat Texas 123-109 and Pittsburgh tripped Carolina 133-120.

Utah thus remained one percentage point ahead of Indiana in the Western Division, but one-half game behind while Pittsburgh kept one-half length in front of the Floridians in the East in their battle for fourth place, the last playoff spot.

In the NBA, San Francisco bombed Cincinnati 110-92, San Diego topped Detroit 106-99, Boston beat Los Angeles 112-104

Oliva Signs Rather Than Hold Out

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Tony Oliva, rather than hold out again next year, signed a two-year contract with the Minnesota Twins Wednesday for a reported $90,000 to $95,000 the first year.

"I suggested a two-year contract so I would not be a problem to sign next year," said Oliva, who hit .325 and drove in 107 runs in 1970.

"I know now I will be a $100,000 player next year," said the 29-year-old right fielder. "I'm in good condition and will be ready to play in a few days."

Oliva's signing three weeks after the reporting deadline left Twins right-handed pitcher Bill Zepp as the only holdout in major league baseball.

and Baltimore clipped Cleveland 113-109.

Melchioni's shot from the corner was the last of his 32 points and capped a great day and night for the ABA, which earlier introduced to the New York press top draft pick Artis Gilmore of Jacksonville, who signed Tuesday with Kentucky.

Melchioni scored the Nets' last eight points in the final four minutes as the lead changed five times and the score was tied twice. Before that Barry was the man, pulling the Nets back from a 52-39 deficit to within 68-62 at the half, then putting them ahead 95-94 in the third quarter. Darel Carrier led Kentucky with 24 points.

Calvin, the smallest man on the court at 6-foot, was the showman in the first game. He brought the Floridians back from a 13-2 deficit to a 61-56 halftime lead and kept them even at 110 before Lonnie Wright scored all six of his points in the final 3½ minutes.

Indiana was never in trouble in the second half after taking a 62-55 intermission lead. Roger Brown paced the Pacers with 28 points and Mel Daniels added 24 and hauled in 19 rebounds. Don Freeman had 25 for Texas.

Pittsburgh, leading only 94-93 at the start of the fourth quarter, outscored Carolina 13-2 to send the Cougars reeling to their 10th successive setback.

George Thompson of the Comdors led all scorers with 35 points. Joe Caldwell had 25 for the losers.

Sebring Is Race Center for a Month

By HUBERT MIZELL
Associated Press Sports Writer SEBRING, Fla. (AP) — It's a friendly town ... embraced by citrus groves and splashed with blue lakes natives swear are alive with bass.

Telling fish tales is Sebring's No. 1 sport ... 51 weeks a year. But, come March and Sebring is suddenly the international motorsports capital with dazzling machines arriving to compete under such magic names as Ferrari, Porsche and Alfa Romeo.

Actual scene of the 12 hours of Sebring is a half-deserted old airport six miles to the east. Auto factory teams and ambitious independents pulled in Wednesday to set up cars for today's qualifying.

Far from the engines' blusterous roar, Sebring—the city—manages to retain most of its charming, low-key nature.

The main downtown sign that "Race Week" had arrived again was a huge vacant lot where the low-flung race cars get their inspections before being carted out to the track for qualifying. Visiting racing fans and curious—if oft dumfounded—locals hang around and watch.

By Saturday, a crowd of more than 50,000 is expected to jam the race area amid the dust, fried chicken tents and parked cars.

Viewing at Sebring is usually relegated to a stretch of a few hundred yards with fans perking up every so many seconds to see the leaders bolt past.

Promoter Alec Ullmann is winding up his contract with the Sebring firemen, who hold the lease on the airport property. He says he may not be able to reach a new agreement especially since the track may have to be mostly rebuilt for safety sake.

Rumor says the Sebring race might soon become the 12 hours of Atlanta.

Angel Manager Visions a Better Year

By JACK STEVENSON

Associated Press Sports Writer PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP) — General Manager Dick Walsh traded busily during the past winter with such players as Tony Conigliaro, Ken Berry and Jim Maloney now on the California Angels' roster.

"With our new acquisitions, I feel we'll be a 25 to 30 per cent better ball club this year than last," declares Manager Lefty Phillips.

He adds, "For the first time since I've been with this organization, the Angel club will play a set line-up without platooning."

In Walsh's major trades, California acquired power-hitting Conigliaro, catcher Jerry Moses and relief pitcher Ray Jarvis from Boston. Right-handed pitcher Maloney came from Cincinnati and center fielder Berry, infielder Syd O'Brien and pitcher Billy Wynne from Chicago's White Sox.

The Angels also bought catcher Jeff Torborg from the Los Angeles Dodgers.

Conigliaro hit 36 homers and drove in 116 runs in 1970. Phillips calls him "the first real power hitter in the history of the Angels."

Berry joins the club to provide defensive strength between Conigliaro and American League batting champion Alex Johnson in the outfield.

First baseman Jim Spencer led the league in fielding with a .995 average and doubled his RBI production with 68.

"We have good strength up the middle with Jim Fregosi at shortstop, Sandy Alomar at second and Berry in center," Phillips says. "In both 1969 and 1970, I thought we were weak in center field defensively."

Phillips hopes to use a five-man pitching rotation with Andy Messersmith, Clyde Wright, Tom Murphy, Rudy May and Maloney.

Left-hander Wright proved the big surprise of 1970 with a 22-12 record after winning just one game the prior season. Messersmith was the disappointment as a series of injuries cut his effectiveness.

Andy says he's fully recovered. So does Maloney, who saw little action with the Reds in 1970 due to an Achilles tendon injury.

"I feel we have more experience and depth in our pitching staff," Phillips adds.

D'Amato Likes Ali's Rematch Chances

By MURRAY OLDERMAN

NEW YORK—(NEA)—The days since have reduced the puffiness in the faces and drained the emotionalism of the Joe Frazier-Muhammad Ali epic. A refrain on the fight and its implications is valid, especially when an expert such as Constantine (Cus) D'Amato collaborates.

D'Amato, a manager of former world champions, contends that it was "a helluva fight for the public to watch" but that artistically it was second-rate, considering the talent involved.

"The two fighters," he says, "were way below par." Ali, rubbing the right side of his jaw, might not agree.

"Frazier got inside him like he planned, but when he got in there he didn't throw the punches," argues D'Amato. "If he threw punches continually, the fight wouldn't have gone the distance."

The explanation for Frazier's lapse was that he became frustrated during the bout and only his stern mental discipline kept him from becoming discouraged, too.

"Frazier was sure he could get to the guy," says D'Amato, "because Ali drops his right when he throws a hook, leaving him open for a left hook in return. Frazier won his fight with Buster Mathis. Jimmy Ellis and Bob Foster, all with the same punch—a left hook on a guy going backwards. He aims it where you're going to be as you step back."

Not until the 15th round did Joe catch Ali in just such a backward step and deck him with a left hook for the dramatic highlight of the fight. Actually, Ali had already blown the decision by his clowning tactics which cost him at least three vital rounds. The general feeling is that the 43-month layoff from boxing cost him his speed and let him get trapped on the ropes.

"The guy really lost his enthusiasm and

State-bred Colt Winner at Oaklawn

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP) — J. Finxpliter, an Arkansas-bred four-year-old colt, shot to the front in the final furlong to beat Midnite Hour by a length to win Wednesday's $10,000 St. Patrick's Day purse at Oaklawn Park.

J. Finxpliter, owned by Raymond Lawrence, posted an excellent 1:10 2-5 over the six furlongs on a fast track.

The colt was overlooked slightly in the betting and paid $13.50, $6.80 and $4.80. Midnite Hour, owned by Robert E. Lehmann, returned $6.40 and $4 and Power Judge, owned by William Wiggins, held on for third to pay $4.20.

Usually a front-runner, J. Finxpliter, was held slightly off the pace for the first half by jockey Danny Gargan. The colt, however, nailed Power Judge at the head of the stretch to be second and then ran past Iron Control at mid-stretch. Still driving hard, J. Finxpliter caught Midnite Hour about 20 yards from the wire and won by a length going away.

The daily double combination of Kathy's Pet with W. J. Layland aboard in the first and Dire, ridden by James McKnight, numbers two and seven, paid $18.20.

The crowd of 11,773 wagered $1,002,065.

Margalo, under 116 pounds and jockey Danny White, heads a field of six fillies and mares, 3-year-olds and upward, in today's $8,500 featured allowance purse at one mile and 70 yards.

The others include Cornada (114), Show of Kings (108), Investiture (107), Sassy Morn (118), Nuquill (112).

ing and this club will score more runs," Phillips asserts.

"We were only three games back going into last September before a series of injuries to key players. Right now I am confident this is the best club in the American League West."

Jarvis will be in the bullpen along with another recent addition to the California roster, Gene Brabender. Mel Queen is back, young lefty Dave LaRoche shows improvement, and veteran knuckballer Eddie Fisher worked in 67 games a year ago.

O'Brien provides infield utility strength to spell Ken McMullen at third, Fregosi or Alomar.

"We have a better bench," the manager declares. "O'Brien provides some sock and Tony Gonzalez, Roger Repoz and Billy Cowan all can hit."

The Angels look for some help in the catching department from Torborg and Moses. Joe Azcue did most of the work there last year.

"We bettered ourselves by 15 games last season when we won 86," Phillips observes. "If we can better ourselves 12 this year, we'll be in pretty good shape."

Cincinnati Gets Royal Runaround

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

San Francisco gave Cincinnati the royal runaround to stay in the running and bring the Ohioans to a virtual dead end.

The Warriors, fighting off San Diego for the runner-up spot and a playoff berth in the National Basketball Association's Pacific Division, took command early and dumped Cincinnati 110-92 Wednesday night.

The victory kept second-place San Francisco two games ahead of San Diego, a 106-99 victor over Detroit. And with only two games apiece to play, the Rockets' chances to catch the Warriors were virtually extinguished.

By losing, the Royals fell two games back of idle Atlanta in the Central Division. Another Cincinnati loss or a victory by the Hawks will eliminate the Royals from post-season play.

In other NBA action, Baltimore overhauled Cleveland 113-109 and Boston held off Los Angeles 112-104. In the American Basketball Association New York nipped Kentucky 122-120, the Floridians clipped Utah 120-116, Indiana ripped Texas 123-109 and Pittsburgh flipped Carolina 133-120.

The Warriors raced to a 10-3 lead in the opening minutes, led 31-15 at the half and widened the margin to as many as 22 points late in the game. Jeff Mullins had 30 points for San Francisco. Rookie Sam Lacey

Austin Carr Outstanding Cage Player

By TED MEIER

Associated Press Sports Writer NEW YORK (AP) — Austin Carr of Notre Dame, whose shooting handed national champion UCLA its only defeat of the regular season, was named today as the College Basketball Player of the Year for 1971 by The Associated Press.

Carr, a 6-foot-3 senior from Washington, D.C. won by a landslide over Sidney Wicks of top-ranked UCLA Bruins in the voting by 453 sports writers and broadcasters.

The voting was done in a separate category along with the balloting for the 1971 All-American announced Wednesday. Some of the 479 who voted for the All-American skipped naming a player of the year.

Carr, who still has a chance of beating out Johnny Neumann of Mississippi as the season's top collegiate scorer, polled 296 votes to 83 for Wicks for Player of the Year.

Far behind in third place was another contender, "Jawbreaker" by Dean Williams of Marquette with 18 and Jim McDaniels of Western Kentucky with eight.

Artis Gilmore of Jacksonville and John Roche of South Carolina tied at five. Fred Brown of Iowa had four and Ken Durrett of LaSalle three. Tied for 10th, with two each, were Dave Robisch of Kansas, Cliff Meely of Colorado and Charlie Davis of Wake Forest.

Curtis Rowe of UCLA Jim Chones of Marquette, Dennis Layton of Southern California and Rich Yunkus of Georgia Tech got one vote each.

Carr, Wicks, Gilmore, Meminger and McDaniels were chosen for the first team All-American. Roche, Robisch, Rowe, Neumann were named to the second team along with Paul Westphal of Southern California.

Television and Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — It is spring practice time for television viewers. The idea is to develop one's skill in ducking reruns.

Only five regular series showed repeats Wednesday night, so only beginner's skill was required to avoid them. But as the weeks roll on, reruns will take over almost completely and the viewer will be hard put to find satisfactory entertainment.

Most television series consist of episodes that lose enchantment the second time around. The easy way would seem to be a summer-time switch of allegiance to a program on another network in the same time period.

It just doesn't work that way. "Men from Shiloh" fans obviously are not going to buckle down happily with "The Courtship of Eddie's Father." Maybe "To Rome with Love" viewers will find happiness with Henry Fonda and "The Smith Family."

"Men at Law" is coming to an end, canceled by CBS after its first season, but it is still using new material. The story Wednesday had a promising start: A young woman was trying to persuade her ailing grandfather to leave a quack's sanitarium. The charlatan was murdered—but then the story went down hill fast with a sorry imitation of a "Perry Mason"-type courtroom denouement.

NBC's "Music Hall" also is still among the living. Steve Lawrence and Eydie Gorme were the principals in sketches presuming to show the horrors of suburban life. Sid Caesar and Barbara Eden were a couple of rude, celebrity-made neighbors in a thing that was on much too long; Anne Mearns was a slattern of a maid, a character exaggerated far beyond humor. Ah, well, it was nice when Steve and Eydie were singing, which was not often enough.

Maybe the current season is almost over, but some interesting specials are coming up during the next month.

George C. Scott will star in an NBC production of "Jane Eyre," on March 24. The "Hall of Fame" Easter show, on NBC March 26, will be an adaptation of Paddy Chayefsky's "Gideon," with Peter Ustinov. CBS has a new "Charlie Brown" cartoon arriving March 28.

Diahann Carroll, whose "Julia" is dropped, appears in her first musical special on NBC April 5. On April 7, also on NBC, is a "Royal Gala," taped in London with Queen Elizabeth II in the audience. Its stars include Bob Hope, Glen Campbell and Petula Clark.

Engineering School
The first engineering school in the United States was founded in 1802 at the U.S. Military Academy at West Point according to Encyclopedia Britannica

Most of Bills Already Signed Into a Law

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Of the 76 administration bills introduced in the Arkansas legislature, 38 have been signed into law and all others except three are still alive.

The figures do not reflect appropriation bills now being considered by the Joint Budget Committee nor administration bills that were withdrawn or defeated and replaced with other bills.

The only major program that has been pushed by Gov. Dale Bumpers that failed was his proposal to liberalize the state's turnpike law.

Major administration bills that have passed both houses of the legislature include Bumpers' proposal to reorganize state government, repeal of the "fair trade" liquor law, increases in the state income tax, cigarette tax and extension of the sales tax to services and the repeal of use-tax exemptions enjoyed by quasi-public corporations.

Group Plans Private School at Pine Bluff

PINE BLUFF, Ark. (AP) — A group of Pine Bluff residents have announced plans to open a private school to be called the Jefferson Academy.

Ben Martin, a member of the academy's Board of Directors, says he hopes the school will be in operation by this fall. He said an organizational meeting held Monday night was attended by 150 parents and 144 pupils were registered.

The proposed school would have a building housing 12 grades, a gymnasium and laboratories. The cost of the structure is estimated at $300,000.

Membership in the academy would cost $1,000 for each student to help build the building, Martin said. He said the membership fee would be refunded after a child graduated from the academy, minus 2 per cent for each year the student attended.

Arkansas River Pact Approved

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla. (AP) — A bill that would authorize a compact between Arkansas and Oklahoma in development of the Arkansas River was approved 93-1 Tuesday by the Oklahoma House and sent to the Senate.

$460,791 for State Colleges

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. John Paul Hammerschmidt, R-Ark., said Wednesday $460,791 has been approved to five Arkansas colleges to administer precollege programs for low-income students who otherwise would not enroll in college for lack of funds.

The funds, subject to final negotiations, went to Philander Smith $135,006, Arkansas College $90,586, University of Arkansas at Fayetteville $83,745, Southern State $80,002 and Ouachita Baptist University $71,452.

Day in Prison for Youths to Be Discussed

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Correction Commissioner C. Robert Sarver says he will ask judges and prosecutors in the state to meet with him to discuss the program of sentencing youthful first offenders to one day in prison.

Sarver said he planned to write letters to judges and prosecutors today in an attempt to get some suggestions on the program. Under the program, the youths arrive at the prison early in the morning and then go through the same routine as the other inmates. The schedule includes a 12 to 14 hour work day.

Sarver says Circuit Judge Maupin Cummings of Fayetteville was the first to send youths to the prison. He said Cummings began by sending the first offenders to the prison for a tour, but later decided that "maybe a tour wasn't enough."

Sarver met Wednesday with some of the staff members at Cummins Prison farm to discuss the program. He said he was "convinced of the workability" of the program.

The commissioner said he and his staff decided to continue the program with no basic change from the way it is now operated.

"We're just going to try to get some organization into this thing and get our people as well trained as possible," Sarver said. "We also want the judges and prosecutors to know just exactly what we're doing."

He said he hoped that many of the state's judges and prosecutors would go to Cummins to see how the program is carried out.

Sarver said recently that about 100 youths had taken part in the program during the past two years and that only one had returned to prison.

House of Representatives Opens With Prayer

Dr. Fred Harrison of Malvern, at right of speaker's stand, offers a prayer to open a session of the Arkansas House of Representatives. Harrison, a retired longtime United Methodist Church minister, is fulltime chaplain of the House. Dr. Harrison served the Hope Church as pastor from 1934 to 1938. At far right is Talbot Field, of Hope, parliamentarian for the House of Representatives.

Son of Colts President Takes Over

BALTIMORE (AP) — Steve Rosenbloom, who started as a $5-a-week clubhouse aide, replaced his father today as president of the Baltimore Colts.

Carroll Rosenbloom, a guiding force as Baltimore regained a National Football League franchise in 1953 and sole owner of the team since 1964, stepped aside in favor of his 26-year-old son.

"I didn't want him to have to wait until I was gone to take over," said the 64-year-old

Rosenbloom, who will become chairman of the board. "I wanted this to be done now. Steve will make his own decisions and have to learn from his own mistakes."

The elder Rosenbloom said he would continue to be the Colts' No. 1 fan at the games and would be available for advice.

Burns Fatal to Youth

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Timmy Williams, 15, of Sylvan Hills died Wednesday in a local hospital from burns he received earlier in the day.

Bumpers and Students Talk Over Merger

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Woodson Walker, president of the Arkansas AM&N College Student Government Association, said Wednesday that Gov. Dale Bumpers had "very generously" accepted suggestions from AM&N for the proposed merger of the predominantly Negro school with the University of Arkansas.

A group of students from AM&N talked with Bumpers Wednesday about the merger. Walker said the suggestions were made by AM&N students, faculty members and administration representatives to a rough draft of a merger proposal that he said he assumed came from the governor's office calling for a merger on July 1, 1972.

Walker said the recommendations were that any new merger proposal require the appointment of at least two blacks to the board of Trustees of the University of Arkansas and create an AM&N Board of Visitors.

The Board of Visitors would be an advisory group composed of AM&N students, faculty and alumni.

Later in the day, Bumpers met with officials of the college, including President Lawrence Davis and coach Van Johnson. The meeting was described as amicable, but details were not discussed.

Bumpers said after the meetings he believed the merger proposal would be approved in the current legislative session.

Hoover Says FBI Data Is No Threat

WASHINGTON (AP) — FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover says his agency's list of 2.5 million names, cases and other information poses "no threat to individual privacy."

Hoover said Wednesday the system is checked frequently for accuracy and "periodic purges are made of the files to eliminate data which has outlived its usefulness."

He said recommendations to provide additional safeguards are under study. The FBI director commented in testimony prepared for the Senate subcommittee on constitutional rights which is looking into government information gathering process.

Hoover did not appear in person. His statement was presented by Assistant FBI Director Dwight Dalby.

The FBI's computer system, operated as the National Crime Information Center, links local, state and federal law agencies in all 50 states and Canada. It processes some 60,000 pieces of information daily.

Robert Mardian, assistant attorney general for internal security, told the subcommittee the Justice Department carries out no surveillance of possible civil disobedience.

He said the Justice Department depended on the FBI, "the newspapers and public sources" for its information.

BITTER OPPONENT of Prime Minister Indira Gandhi in India's crucial parliamentary elections, Siddavanshalli Nijalingappa, president of the Old Congress party, indulges in an activity as significant in Indian politics as baby-kissing is in American. The late Mahatma Gandhi made home spinning symbolic of India's drive for independence. Mrs. Gandhi's left-leaning policies, which split the original Congress party into Nijalingappa's conservatives and her own New Congress party, are the key issue of the election.

Says Nothing
Improper in School Hearing

TEXARKANA, Tex. (AP) — Dr. Mitchell Young of Texarkana said Wednesday the Justice Department in Washington, D.C., had told him they found nothing improper in the Watson Chapel court hearing conducted last month by U.S. Dist. Judge Oren Harris.

In the hearing, at Pine Bluff, Ark., Harris found the Watson Chapel School Board and the school superintendent in contempt of court for not initiating his court-ordered desegregation plan in the district. The plan was later placed into effect.

Harris also had ordered the board's attorney, John Warnock, of Camden not to make any public statements about the district's litigation or organize any mass meetings.

Young, president of Unified Concerned Citizens of America and Freedom Inc., two groups opposing "forced integration" of schools, had written U.S. Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell requesting a review of the court proceedings.

Young contended Warnock and the school board members had been denied freedom of speech, denied a trial by jury, that no defense witnesses were allowed to appear in the hearing, that 78 defense witnesses were "imprisoned" by federal marshals in one room without chairs for three hours, that Harris had insulted the associate defense counsel and that Harris violated the 1964 Civil Rights Act and other laws that he said forbade the assignment of pupils to schools and busing of pupils solely to achieve a racial balance.

Young said he received a reply Wednesday from Jerris Leonard, assistant attorney general for the Civil Rights Division of the Justice Department, and Brian K. Landsberg, chief of the education section.

"In our review (of the court proceedings), we have found no indication of improper action by the court in the conduct of this hearing and no basis for action by this department," the letter said.

Young said that the significance of this means that the people "can no longer trust the Justice Department, HEW, federal judges, the Supreme Court or the President of the United States."

"There is only one branch of government that the people have any hope to accomplish anything with and that is through Congress," Young said. "We are considering right now filing suit against Judge Harris . . . because he is in violation of the 1964 Civil Rights Act," and other laws relating to busing and racial balance, Young said. "We will try to have him convicted for violation of laws passed by Congress."

MRS. LEON PRESCOTT

Mrs. Leon Prescott, Legal Secretary, spoke to the Phi Beta Lambda Chapter on the "Duties of a Legal Secretary."

Mrs. Prescott was Co-Valedictorian of her graduating class of high school. She is an honored graduate of Texarkana Business College. She has been employed as legal secretary for fifteen years. Mrs. Prescott is presently employed by the law firm Graves & Graves of Hope.

Mixed Jury to Hear Black Panther Case

By PETER COWEN
Associated Press Writer

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP) — A jury of five Negroes and seven whites whose selection took nearly four months begins hearing testimony today in the trial of Black Panther Chairman Bobby G. Seale and Ericka Huggins, a local party member.

Seale and Mrs. Huggins are charged with kidnapping resulting in the death of a fellow Panther and aiding and abetting murder—offenses which carry the death penalty—plus conspiracy to kidnap and to murder. In addition, Mrs. Huggins is accused of binding with criminal intent.

The charges arise from the slaying of Alex Rackley, whose body was found in a swamp 20 miles north of New Haven almost two years ago. Police said the victim was suspected of being a police informer by members of the Panthers' local chapter, and was tortured with boiling water before being shot in the head and chest.

The Panthers maintain that the killing was conceived and carried out by George Sams Jr., a former Panther and bodyguard to Stokely Carmichael. Sams has pleaded guilty to second-degree murder in the case and is expected to be an important prosecution witness.

"The members of the New Haven chapter were young and they were immature, so they cannot and must not be blamed for what George Sams did or made them do under the threat of death at his hands," says a statement from Panther nation-

$9,817 Grant
for Head Start

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. David Pryor, D-Ark., said Wednesday the Health, Education and Welfare Department has approved a $9,817 grant to the Rison School District for a Head Start program to serve Cleveland County.

al headquarters.

Panther spokesmen have said it will be revealed at the trial that Sams was a police agent.

Seale, who founded the Panthers in 1966 with Huey P. Newton, was arrested in California in August 1969 on the basis of an affidavit in which Sams said the Panther leader had confronted Rackley in New Haven and ordered his slain. Seale has denied seeing either Sams or the victim.

Fourteen Panthers originally were arrested in the Rackley case. Six pleaded guilty to reduced charges, the cases of two youngsters were handled in Juvenile Court without publicity, and charges against one were dropped. Another Lonnie McLucas, was convicted of conspiracy to murder Rackley and was sentenced to 12 to 15 years in prison.

Besides Seale and Mrs. Huggins, two Panthers fighting extradition from Colorado remain to be tried.

Calley Juror Is Sent to Hospital

FT. BENNING, Ga. (AP) — A juror in the trial of Lt. William L. Calley Jr. suffered stomach pains and was taken to a hospital emergency room shortly before midnight, then was released for today's second day of deliberations.

Maj. Harvey G. Brown, 33, had retired for the night when he became ill. A bailiff, S. Sgt. Jefferson Huggins, took him to Martin Army Hospital for examination.

After 90 minutes, the major was returned to the quarters he shares with the rest of the six-man panel while they are deciding whether Calley should be convicted of murder in the death of 102 civilians in My Lai.

Under military law, the deliberations could continue with five men but Judge Reid Kennedy said he would delay resumption if Brown's illness recurred.

The jurors are working in a tightly guarded room which is newly equipped with blackboards, possibly to help chart Charlie Company's onslaught on the village three years ago.

On a table at one end of the narrow chamber are some 100 exhibits collected through four months of testimony.

Meanwhile in his bachelor apartment, on the post and decorated with peace signs, Calley welcomed a steady stream of Army friends and newsmen he invited to help pass the time waiting for the jury's decision.

The 27-year-old lieutenant provided beer, soft drinks and conversation that rarely touched on My Lai. A secretary, hired to handle the hundreds of letters he receives, acted as a hostess.

Kennedy, on call for any questions from the jury, played bridge in his chambers. Even the prosecutor Capt. Aubrey Daniel, his work finished after spending a year preparing the case, was relaxed and jovial for the first time since the trial started Nov. 12.

In their first hour of talks, the jurors sent out a call for a blackboard. In the afternoon, they asked for another.

The discussions apparently were heated.

As the jurors left for dinner, they put on their tunics without exchanging a word.

The faces of Col. Clifford Ford and Majors Charles McIntosh, Walter Kinard and Brown appeared flushed. Maj. Carl Bierbaum and Capt. Ronald Salem went out with jaws set.

The officers are being kept away from their families and from all contact with the world outside their six-room suite in transient officers' barracks and their deliberation room.

Three bailiffs censor their newspapers and television viewing of news about the Calley case.

They will return verdicts on four specifications: the mass murders of 30 and 70 people and the deaths each of one man and one child.

On each specification they must choose from four possible verdicts —premeditated murder, unpremeditated murder, voluntary manslaughter or acquittal.

Unless they vote for acquittal, the jurors, after announcing the verdicts on each specification, must renew their private discussions to fix sentence: life in prison or death for premeditated murder up to life imprisonment for unpremeditated murder, and up to 10 years for voluntary manslaughter.

Promotions by Utilities Aired

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The state Public Service Commission has issued a list of proposed rules governing promotional practices of utilities.

The proposed rules would prohibit certain practices and would limit a utility's promotional activities to only those approved by the PSC.

The PSC has questioned such practices as giving away gas or electric lights or heaters, paying for advertising for home-builders and wiring allowances. The utilities have maintained that promotional practices were designed to meet competition and were not discriminatory.

The rules said that no utility could offer or grant any person any form of promotional practice unless it was offered to all persons in a "reasonably defined class."

Diagram of a drug abuser

These are a few of the signs that may indicate that a young person could be abusing drugs or using narcotics. While these symptoms are not proof of drug abuse (most could occur for several other reasons), they should serve to alert parents and friends that a problem may exist. If you're not sure, talk with your family physician. If you suspect, ask your child point blank, "Are you taking drugs?" It's a sad thing to have to ask someone you love, but saving "Goodbye" is even sadder. Will advertising contribute for the public good?

Beef Cattle Clinic Is Held in Hempstead

halls is the wrong kind of experience. Some of the things that people tell about themselves publicly while being interviewed on television programs today would have got them flung out of a barber shop if said out loud a generation ago.

Puppy love is often jeered at, but it is never really funny. It is never truly outgrown either. Anyone who has suffered its agony and ecstasy remembers ever after as clearly as a blind man can recall the last rainbow he saw before losing his sight.

Some businessmen may feel a bit down in the mouth these days; on the other hand, many of them look 20 years younger since they decided they couldn't afford to have that third martini at lunch.

A woman is consoled by the fact that no matter what happens to her in this world she can always do something about it by becoming a blonde.

The ordinary office snot stays home on a day he feels too bad to go to work; a philosopher is one who stays home because he feels too good to.

A wedding is what you have when a single girl who says she wouldn't marry a certain guy if he was the last man on earth finds out he's the only unmarried one left in the block.

There are two things every man could do without and never miss—the foresight of his enemies, the hindsight of his friends.

Integrity of PX Probers Questioned

By LAWRENCE L. KNOTSON

Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — After nearly five weeks of conflicting testimony a Senate probe into alleged scandal in the giant military PX system has ended in charges touching the integrity of the investigating panel.

Finishing their interrogation of former Brig. Gen. Earl F. Cole, senators announced Wednesday they will turn his sworn testimony over to the Justice, Treasury and Defense departments for possible perjury and tax evasion action.

Cole, once a key Army staff officer in Vietnam who later was fired as head of the European PX system, replied he had been slandered, libeled and destroyed by an unfair hearing.

The Senate probe degraded American justice and gave comfort "to the neo-fascists, the Nazis and the Communists," he said.

Cole said he would file libel suits against any senator or witness who repeated statements about Cole outside the cloak of congressional immunity.

"I feel if this case of mine is brought before a court of law, I will be exonerated," Cole said. "If this has been a fair and impartial hearing, I feel sorry for the future of this country."

Committee Chairman Abraham Ribicoff, D-Conn., declaring the aim of the panel is reform, said of Cole's charges: "I reject them totally."

PROPOSAL FOR

caused the accident. Volpe brought Congress the long-awaited final report of a $1.6 million, three-year department study of auto insurance. He also submitted a proposed resolution which cited the inequities in the current system and concluded:

"That it is the sense of the Congress that the regulation of insurance should, in general, continue with the states, subject to the admonition, however, that Congress cannot, and will not, long ignore the need of evolving new and updated approaches to insurance and accident compensation."

Hart, whose antimonopoly subcommittee has held extensive hearings on the insurance industry, believes that a state-by-state approach is unworkable.

Volpe said that a single reform system should not be imposed upon all the states.

But he did offer general guidelines for states to follow:

"We believe that the states should begin promptly to shift to a first-party, non-fault compensation system for automobile accident victims."

"... that this might be done gradually and in such a way that we can reverse ourselves, if the actual performance of the system doesn't meet our expectations."

"... that recovery for 'general' or intangible damages should be drastically limited and carefully circumscribed."

The administration recommended Congress take another look at auto accident compensation in two years "when we have had time to analyze the experience of the several states under new systems."

In its draft resolution, the administration said the existing system "results in the excessive compensation of many persons sustaining only minor loss" while "by contrast, many persons with severe and permanently crippling injuries recover only a fraction of their losses."

The administration's proposed no-fault system includes these provisions:

—Every car owner would be required to carry insurance

mass transit grants, $525 million; airport grants, $220 million; highway safety grants, $130 million; federal aid for highways, except for the interstate system, $1.625 billion; and highway beautification grants, $66 million.

Nixon's message to Congress on transportation is the fifth of six he is submitting on special revenue-sharing. Previously he sent to Capitol Hill special messages on urban development, rural development, manpower and law enforcement. Still to come is his special revenue-sharing for education.

covering himself and his family as well as anyone who might be injured in an accident involving his vehicle.

—Insurance must cover all medical expenses "with very high mandatory limits." Included would be all medical rehabilitation expenses within the limits provided.

—Loss of income through death or injury would be covered up to a suggested ceiling of $1,000 a month.

—Payment of up to $75 a week for replacement of services of a non-working member of a household would be provided.

—An injured person would be barred from suing to recover damages greater than the limits set for damages covered by the policy.

—No injured person could sue for intangible losses "unless he established that he suffered permanent impairment or loss of function or permanent disfigurement, or that he incurred personal medical expenses (excluding hospital expenses) as a result of the accident in excess of a rather high dollar threshold."

"public property" and another to provide self-insurance protection for damage by vandals. The uniform drug control bill was patterned after federal legislation which Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark., spearheaded in Congress.

The state measure would provide penalties of up to 15 years in prison and $25,000 fine for persons convicted of drug violations but would reduce the first two convictions for possession of drugs from felonies to misdemeanors. Penalties now range from two to five years in prison.

Rep. Ralph Patterson of North Little Rock, a sponsor of the bill, said that a serious drug problem had developed in Arkansas, "not only in the cities but also in many rural areas."

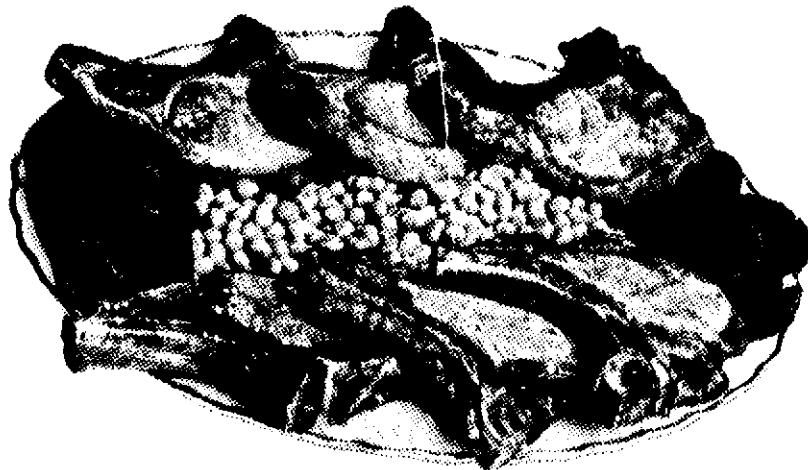

He said his bill would control the problem, already one of "growing tremendous proportions," before it gets out of hand.

Rep. Julian Streett of Camden led opposition to the "no-knock" provision, which would empower judges, including justices of the peace, to issue warrants for "no knock" raids.

Streett questioned whether justices of the peace were qualified to know when to grant such warrants. Rep. Rudy Moore of Springdale called the provision an "over-reaction" to fear that narcotics violators could dispose of large amounts of drugs between the time when an officer knocked on a door of the violator's residence and the time when the officer was permitted to enter.

Moore's amendment to strike the provision from the bill failed on a vote of 50-29 with 51 votes needed for adoption.
